

ECE Comp – Generational Community Essay

You've read both Martin Luther King Jr.'s "Letter from Birmingham Jail" and Henry David Thoreau's "Why I Went to the Woods." King writes a highly logical and persuasive argument that states his position as it exists in opposition to the clergy community's position. Thoreau, similarly, makes an argument for his choice to leave his community – clarifying his opposition to his community's position. For this assignment, I want you - like both Thoreau and King - to consider your opposition (or support) of your largest community's media defined principles. Research how the larger media and culture define your generation (Generation Z), and explain your individual perspective in juxtaposition to that media construct.
